FITNESS MOVEMENT LEAGUE'S CHAMPIONSHIPS

2016 INFORMATION SHEET

This Information Sheet explains important changes in Fitness Movement League's 2016 championships held in Singapore. (These rules do NOT necessarily apply to FM League championships held outside Singapore.) Information Sheets for each championship will be issued when the online application for that championship opens. This 2016 Information Sheet is to give a general overview applicable across all Singapore championships.

SUMMARY OF KEY POINTS

- Qualification for the National Team will depend primarily on performance in the Nationals events.
- There is a strict hierarchy of the championships (international, regional, national, local, and community level).
- In addition to amateur events, FM League will begin to offer professional events in the future.
- There is a Code of Conduct for Athletes. Violating the code can result in an athlete not being able to compete with FM League again.
- Men's and Women's Fitness divisions are not offered in 2016.
- Men's Classic Bodybuilding and Men's Classic Physique will not be offered. Athletes wanting to compete in classic bodybuilding are strongly encouraged to try the new MPA division.

- AFMS – Singapore will only feature the Men's Physique Athletic division, Open category.
- Women's Figure and WBA/WBB will have different posing routines and mandatory poses.
- Men's Sports Model will be a single-round division with multi-colored square-cut swim trunks.
- Women's Sports Model division will be introduced in at SFMS - Physique War 2017.
- The T-walk in SFMS has been replaced with a Straight Walk on most situations.
- Use of self-applied and self-spray products, including tanning oils, is now banned across ALL championships. Athletes may use the official spray tanning service or their own spray tanning vendor.
- Helpers, coaches, family members, etc. are banned from the backstage across ALL championships.
- The backstage will be locked down at all championships. Athletes who leave the backstage area will be immediately disqualified. Athletes should bring enough food. Smoke breaks will be provided.
- Too many athletes are not reading the materials we release. These Information Sheets and the Briefing Sheets contain important information. Not reading them could result in you breaking a rule and being disqualified.

More information on the above items is in the following pages, plus several other items not mentioned above.

National Team

The National Team will consist of both professional and amateur athletes. Athletes will be chosen primarily based on their performance at FM League's Nationals events. Exceptional performance at FM League's local-level events may also be taken into consideration. The National Team will compete next in the United States in 2017.

Athletes who have competed under the Singapore name or flag with any other organization, whether in a competition in Singapore or overseas, and not eligible for ten years to be part of the National Team. This does not affect their eligibility to compete in FM League championships.

Please note that, outside of FM League, several small events held in Singapore are labeled as 'international' or 'regional' by their organizers. Entry into these events is considered competing under the Singapore name or flag. Also, if the word "Singapore" is mentioned along with an athlete's name, or any athlete's national flags appear on stage at any point, or any national anthem is played during the award ceremonies, it is considered competing under the Singapore name or flag.

Hierarchy of Championships

FM League's championships follow a strict hierarchy. Prestige, prize money, recognition, and qualification for the National Team all follow this hierarchy.

FM League's Nationals is the gold standard for ALL Singaporean athletes. They are the championships for our sport's top athletes (regardless of which of the eight organizations currently in Singapore they usually support). This is where the best compete. Even within FM League's events, while both Bodybuilding Singapore and SFMS may hold multiple local and community-level events in the future, each will only hold ONE national-level event a year. Also, doing well at Nationals is the primary criterion for entry into the National Team.

Regional events are the place where Singapore's best can meet regional champions head-to-head, often on the Singapore stage. They serve as a useful benchmark to help raise expectations and standards across the community in our sport.

Type of Championship		Examples of Championships within each championship series
Pro or Am	Level	Bodybuilding Singapore	Singapore Fitness Model Search	Asia Fitness Model Search
Professional	International	TBA	Nil	TBA
Amateur	Regional	Mr. Singapore International	Nil	AFMS Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Dubai, etc.
	National	Mr. Singapore ('Nationals')	Nationals	Nil
	Local	Muscle War	Physique War Other events TBA	Nil
	Community	TBA	TBA	Nil

Respectful Use of National Anthem

For each of the Bodybuilding Singapore and Singapore Fitness Model Search series of events, the Singapore national anthem is played once and only once a year, at the opening ceremony of the Nationals championship for Bodybuilding Singapore and SFMS. It is not used at local and community-level events. National anthems are also used, but sparingly so, at appropriate times in our regional and international-level events.

Respectful Use of National Flags

Athletes are prohibited, under penalty of instant disqualification, from bringing any national flags onto the stage in any FM League national/local/community-level event (unless specifically authorized beforehand by officials). Athletes may bring national flags onto the stage during the prize ceremony for international/regional events.

Professional Events

In the future, FM League will offer international-level events for professional athletes. The guaranteed cash prizes of international-level pro events are much higher than amateur events.

Social Media

We strongly encourage athletes to follow the FM League Facebook page (FB: fitnessmovementleague).

Many important announcements are posted on Facebook, and FM League considers Facebook postings to be sufficient notification to athletes on any event or policy changes. Athletes who fail to follow or read these announcements may be at a significant disadvantage. It is the athlete's responsibility to keep abreast of the announcements put out by FM League.

We do not actively communicate with athletes via email unless an athlete has applied to an upcoming championship, and those e-mail communications may be restricted only to covering issues specific to that championship.

We also encourage athletes to follow FM League on Instagram at #fmleague.

Code of Conduct for Athletes

FM League has a Code of Conduct (<http://fmleague.co/aboutus/code-of-conduct>) that will be expanded gradually. Athletes are expected to read, understand, and abide by the Code.

The Code of Conduct has rules against over-competing, including guidelines on how many events an athlete should enter each 12-month period and the 30-Day Rule which states:

An athlete must not enter another physique-related competition (where the appearance of the body is a major part of the competitive assessment), whether run by FM League or not, anytime within 30 days before to 30 days after a FM League championship that he/she competed in. Entering other sports like powerlifting or running is fine.

FM League is very serious about the Code of Conduct and will strictly enforce it. Violating the Code of Conduct can result in an athlete being excluded from FM League championships for several years.

Titles

FM League is tightening up on the use of titles throughout the community in order to ensure their longevity. Just like an Olympics gold medal winner will always be an Olympics gold medal winner because everyone understands what that means regardless of the sport, we want young local athletes 20 or 30 years from now to instantly recognize the titles won by athletes today. A 60-year-old retired athlete will be able to tell a 20-year-old one what he won decades ago and instantly be understood by his younger counterpart.

Rules of on the usage of titles are laid out in the Code of Conduct for Athletes. Further measures will be taken to strengthen the lasting value and accuracy of FM League's titles. Once this process is complete, a database of main title winners will be released to the public next year and maintained.

Overall Winners

In categories with multiple classes there is sometimes an overall round to determine the overall winner. A second and third place is often announced in these rounds. Going forward, we will only award the winner of the overall. This applies across all FM League championships, including the Mr. Singapore round in Bodybuilding Singapore's national event.

Celebration of Past Champions

It is important for us to recognize past champions and their achievements on an on-going basis. As part of this initiative, the following steps will be taken:

- Local athletes who have done well in FM League championships and are competing will be invited to stand in the front row of the Parade of Athletes in SFMS events.
- At SFMS – Nationals, past champions who are competing will be featured in a Parade of Champions during the opening ceremony.
- Past championship winners will be invited to important championships to sit in the VIP section free of charge, though they cannot bring guests.

More steps will be rolled out over time to recognize the past FM League championship winners on an ongoing basis.

Champions are champions for life.

Positioning of the Divisions

The chart below illustrates the relative positioning of the divisions across the championships. Some of the Women's divisions are not currently offered, but included in the chart for illustration purposes.

Proportion (overall balance of different body parts to one another) and Symmetry (straightforward right-left symmetry of body parts) are both expected at the maximum possible across all divisions.

Muscle Mass is the key distinguishing attribute between divisions. There is an upper limit for muscle mass for all non-bodybuilding divisions, beyond which judges will begin to penalize for excessive muscle mass.

Definition is the overall visibility of the muscles. This attribute is sometimes called conditioning. In the Bodybuilding division, definition includes vascularity. In other divisions, vascularity is considered excessive and will be penalized. At lower levels of definition, such as in MPB and WSM, higher body fat levels allowed by judges will flatten the definition somewhat.

Separation is the level of muscle separation between the various muscle groups and the athlete's ability to control and showcase them on stage. Extreme muscle separation is ideal for the Bodybuilding division as it creates the 'cuts', and it takes a lot of physique-specific training to achieve. Muscle separation for MPA and MSM should be less extreme but still pronounced.

Dress Code of Divisions

Men's Division	Dress Code	Women's Division	Dress Code
Bodybuilding (MBB)	Posing Trunks Plain single color No footwear	Figure (WF)	Two-piece adorned bikini with top straps attached to bottom crisscrossed at back High-Heels
Physique Athletic (MPA)	Square Cut Trunks Plain single color (any ONE color) No footwear	Bikini Athletic (WBA)	Two-piece adorned bikini with top straps attached together behind in traditional bikini-style and not attached to bottom High-Heels
Physique Beach (MPB)	Board shorts Multi-colored No footwear	Bikini Beach (WBB)
Sports Model (MSM)	Square Cut Trunks Multi-colored (must be two or more colors) No footwear	Sports Model (WSM)	Two-piece gym outfit with sports bra and workout shorts Sneakers

For all division dress codes, there must be no slogans or logos or words on the clothing items (a small manufacturer logo is OK).

All divisions are single-round assessments with only one set of attire.

This is an example of single-color square-cut trunks used for MPA. Any color is acceptable as long as it is a single plain solid color with no patterns. For MSM, the cutting is the same but the trunks should be two or more colors or patterns. Colorful patterns are allowed.

Men's Divisions

Within Singapore, the Men's Bodybuilding division will be offered only under the Bodybuilding Singapore event series. All other men's divisions will be under Singapore Fitness Model Search.

Women's Divisions

All women's divisions will be consolidated into the SFMS series, to create more critical mass and provide a more collegial environment for women athletes.

Men's and Women's Fitness

The Fitness division is not offered in 2016. There is too much movement in other divisions to give Fitness its due attention. This will be reviewed in 2017.

Men's Classic Bodybuilding and Men's Classic Physique

Men's Classic Bodybuilding and Men's Classic Physique are not offered in 2016, and unlikely to be offered in 2017. The splitting up of Men's Physique into two divisions creates sufficient choice for local athletes. We strongly encourage athletes who want to enter Classic Bodybuilding to consider the new Men's Physique Athletic division.

Men's Physique Athlete (MPA) and Men's Physique Beach (MPB)

As of SFMS - Nationals 2016, Men's Physique becomes two divisions: MPA and MPB. Going forward into 2017, there will no longer be the Men's Physique division.

MPA athletes wear square-cut trunks, allowing for a full-body evaluation, while MPB athletes are in board shorts like the current Men's Physique division, making it primarily an upper body evaluation.

MPB will be essentially the same as the current Men's Physique, while MPA extends the assessment to the full body. Initially, we expect that the level of muscularity will be very similar (at least the upper body) in MPA and MPB. As regional standards raise expectations in the Singapore community, MPA will become more muscular and more defined and separated, increasing the gap with MPB and moving closer to MBB in all dimensions. We will manage this shift over time. MBB is likely to remain largely unchanged as a division, though competition will become stronger.

For now, however, the level of definition and separation expected for MPA, MPB, and MSM are essentially the same.

MPA will be the more high-profile of the two new divisions. The regional championships will feature MPA and not MPB. But MPA is not the logical place for everyone. Teens and Juniors classes will continue to be offered mainly in MPB. SFMS - Physique War, for instance, will be primarily MPB, while the teen/junior divisions at SFMS - Nationals will also be MPB. Younger athletes require more time and training to graduate to the full body standard required in MPA. Also, athletes who have uneven upper to lower body development should choose MPB. Those who are smaller in muscle mass but balanced overall can try MPA, but MSM (which is also a full body assessment) may be the better choice.

Note that cross-over between divisions in the same championship will in most cases not be allowed. There are certain exceptions to this, which will be announced when the individual championship information sheet is released.

Note that our positioning of Men's Physique Beach (MPB) differs from that of Nspire Sports League's (NSL, headquartered in the USA), which targets a more massive but less defined and separated look. FM League's policy decisions are independent within the strategic relationship we have with NSL, and we evaluate what is most appropriate for the local and regional community on a case-by-case basis.

Men's Bodybuilding (MBB) versus Men's Physique Athletic (MPA)

The distance between MBB and MPA has narrowed, but there are still significant differences between the two. It is possible for MBB athletes to come down to MPA, but not in a short period of time. It would probably take a year to 'retool' a MBB physique to MPA. Athletes who try to compete in both within the same year will likely find themselves in no-man's land. At the Nationals, it is likely that from 2017 onwards we will bar cross-over between MBB and MPA within the same year, even though the two divisions are held separately (meaning if you compete in Nationals for Bodybuilding you cannot compete in Nationals for Physique in 2017). Given that MPA is new in 2016, cross-over will be allowed in 2016 to allow people to experiment with the new division.

Men's Sports Model (MSM)

MSM will be a single-round assessment in multi-colored square-cut trunks. Brighter colors are encouraged. The entire physique must be visible to allow judging of overall balance in this lower-muscularity division. MSM is similar to MPA in terms of the definition and separation required, but with a much lower threshold for muscle mass.

Women's Bikini Athletic (WBA) and Women's Bikini Beach (WBB)

These two divisions are substantially similar, with identical posing and dress code. WBA is at a level similar to the current Women's Bikini, whereas WBB is seeking a softer look than that.

Women's Figure (WF) versus Women's Bikini Athletic and Beach (WBA/WBB)

These WF and WBA/WBB have different posing requirements. First, their quarter-turns are different. Second, WF has five mandatory poses while WBA/WBB has a Front-Back assessment. Please pay attention to the posing requirements.

They also have a different dress code. The two-piece Figure suit requires that the top straps be attached to the bottom, crisscrossed at the back. The Figure suit is more standardized because of this requirement. The two-piece Bikini suit requires the top to be connected at the back like a traditional bikini outfit, which allows for more variety. Stage presence and presentation plays a larger role in Bikini compared to Figure.

Women's Sports Model

Women's Sports Model division will be a lower level of muscular development than WBA/WBB. This division will be a single-round assessment, designed for athletic women who have not done extensive physique-specific training.

WSM has been on the drawing board since 2014, and will likely be rolled out in Physique War 2017. We did not release it earlier because it was important to allow Figure and Bikini to establish themselves locally first, otherwise athletes would be confused over the expectations for each division, and waste their time and effort preparing for a division that does not suit them. Organizations that indiscriminately introduce divisions are being irresponsible.

Straight Walk

In SFMS championships, the T-Walk will be replaced by the Straight Walk in many cases. In the Straight Walk, the athlete enters from the center, walks to the center of mid-stage, strikes one front pose, and then exits immediately to the side.

Athlete names will not be announced in the Straight Walk. This ensures that athletes who are not in position can be skipped over. There is no time to go searching for missing athletes in a sea of hundreds of athletes. Athletes who are not in position at the right time do not step on stage and do not compete. Period.

T-Walk

The T-Walk will still be used in some situations, such as the Parade of Champions at SFMS – Nationals, when past FM League champions who are competing or stage-ready that day are invited to walk the stage in the opening ceremony. It will also be used in the final round of AFMS – Singapore.

There will be some situations when the T-Walk/Straight Walk is completely eliminated. Athletes will be briefed at the Athlete Briefing session a month before the event of the final arrangements so that athletes can properly prepare.

Self-Applied Products and Spray Tanning

There is a complete ban on self-applied products of any sort, including tanning oils and coloring oils (like Dream Tan or Pro-Tan) for all championships. Damage to the venue by athletes using self-applied products that then smear or streak on floors and walls has created significant problems. Experience shows that a single irresponsible athlete can create a thousand dollars' worth of damage to the venue. Streaking bodies is also a bad look on stage.

Athletes should use professional spray tanning. We will ensure that a dark and appropriate oil specific to bodybuilding and physique events is used by the official spray tanning vendor. Athletes may choose to use the official vendor or their own. However, only the official vendor will be on-site during the championship to apply a final coating.

Athletes must NOT bring in any self-applied and self-spray products to use in the backstage. Athletes found using self-spray products or other self-applied products anywhere on the venue premises, whether in public areas outside or in the backstage area will be disqualified. Breaking this ban demonstrates premeditation and planning by an athlete, and so the athlete's applications to future FM League championships will also be jeopardized.

Athletes can opt not to do tanning of any sort, but this is not advisable as the stage lights will wash out a lot of definition.

Helpers, Coaches, Family backstage

A complete ban on backstage helpers will come into force starting in 2016. The shift to 100% spray tanning means helpers are not needed. Helpers have consistently proven to be a hindrance to backstage operations, a source of unnecessary congestion, unresponsive to crew instructions, and often disruptive to the execution of the championship.

As such, helpers, coaches, family members, etc. are banned across ALL championships. Any athlete that knowingly facilitates or acquiesces to such unauthorized individual(s) being in backstage and other restricted areas will be immediately disqualified, and the athlete's applications to future FM League championships will be jeopardized. Furthermore, any such unauthorized individual(s) trespassing in the backstage area will be banned both as an athlete and as a spectator from future FM League events.

Backstage Lock-Down

A number of measures will be implemented to strengthen security as we plan for ever-larger championships. We have studied overseas championships that have 500 or even 1,000 athletes, and are adopting certain best practices.

In 2016, there will be a total lock-down of the backstage across all championships. Once they have entered (usually around 9:00am), athletes cannot exit the backstage area until they have finished competing and checked out. Once they exit, athletes will not be allowed back in. In other words, athletes enter once in the morning and exit once when finished.

The moment athletes exit they lose their status as a participating athlete and are considered to have left/withdrawn. They also forfeit any security deposit if they did not check out yet. If such athletes left any personal belongings in the backstage area, they either have to get an athlete friend to bring it to the door or wait until the end of the championship when they will be escorted in. A security team will enforce the rules and patrol the backstage areas.

Note that this means that athletes who want to take photos with their family and friends outside must wait until after they check out. So photo taking will have to wait until the end.

Food and Smokers

Due to the backstage lock-down, athletes must make sure to bring enough food to last through the whole championship. Whatever you plan to bring, double it. If you run out of food you will crash. Arrangements will be made for athletes who are smokers. There will be scheduled hourly smoking breaks when athletes are escorted to a smoking area and back.

Personal Belongings

At all championships there is no place for athletes to secure their belongings. As such, we recommend bringing only what you need (except for food: bring plenty of food so that you do not run out), a numeric padlock and a bag that can be locked. Do not ask our crew for any help in securing or locating your belongings.

Passports

Overseas athletes are required to produce their passports (except Malaysians who should bring and show their MyKad while leaving their passports safely back in the hotel) at registration on the morning of the championship. Our staff can take passports for safekeeping and return it to athletes at the end. Note that this service ONLY applies to passports. Athletes who have shown their passport for verification already at the mandatory briefing session can bring a photocopy of their passport for registration on the morning of the championship.

No Cameras

The ban on cameras and recording equipment will continue to be applied across all championships, in the auditorium and backstage. The only photography allowed by audience members and athletes is using handheld phones (without any lens attachments) no larger than 160mm x 80mm x 9mm. Bag checks will be in place at the entrance of the auditorium at all championships. Athletes must not bring into the backstage any cameras and recording equipment.

Age Criteria

All championships will change to strict age-based-only cut-offs for eligibility for restricted categories. This means that an athlete's educational status (whether he is a student) is not relevant. The eligibility for the Teens/Juniors classes will be strictly according to the athlete's age on the date of the championship.

Singapore Citizenship Requirements

The main division in the two Nationals events are restricted to Singapore citizens only. This ensures that the winner of the two main FM League national titles remain Singaporeans. These divisions are Men's Bodybuilding in Bodybuilding Singapore's Nationals, and MPA in SFMS – Nationals. All other divisions offered at Nationals will be open to all.

Non-Singapore citizens who want to enter these two main divisions must enter into the regional event (Mr. Singapore International and AFMS – Singapore) held on the same day as the Nationals. It is possible for a Singaporean citizen to win both the SFMS – Nationals MPA Overall title and the AFMS – Singapore MPA Overall title. For a non-Singaporean citizen, he can only win the AFMS – Singapore MPA Overall title. Similarly, it is possible for a Singaporean citizen to win both the Mr. Singapore and Mr. Singapore International title.

Asia Fitness Model Search

AFMS will expand to several countries in the region over the next few years, completing a regional circuit. An AFMS event will be held annually in each of the designated countries/areas/cities. For the foreseeable future, AFMS will only feature MPA. All AFMS events have no citizenship or residency requirements.

Online Applications and Deadlines

Online applications for each championship will open about five to six months prior and close about two months prior to the championship. Athletes should be well underway with diet and preparations by about two months out and there is no reason for last-minute application requests.

Division/Category Changes

Any changes to Divisions or Categories must be made at the mandatory Athlete Briefing held about a month prior to the championship. Athletes must also pay a separate non-refundable fee for each and every category they apply to enter. If later they wish to change to another division/category, they must pay a non-refundable change fee. If they decide to change back to the original, they have to pay the non-refundable change fee again. (Athletes cannot control the class they are in. Their class is determined based on their height or weight, according to the cutoffs of the division and category they have entered.)

Height Measurements and Weigh-In

For Bodybuilding Singapore events, Weigh-In takes place 1-2 days prior to the championship. Athletes must wear their competition outfits during the weigh-in. This is so that officials can make sure the outfit is appropriate and meets the criteria. There is also a mandatory Athlete Briefing held about a month prior to the championship.

For SFMS events, the Height Measurement takes place at the mandatory Athlete Briefing for local athletes held about a month prior to the championship. Athletes must wear their competition outfits during the weigh-in. This is so that officials can make sure the outfit is appropriate and meets the criteria. Women will be informed if this requirement is relaxed for their division for any individual championship.

Athlete Questions

Too many athletes fail to read our instructions and information sheets. We take great pains to make sure the information released is complete, accurate, and succinct. But we still receive an enormous volume of email questions in the weeks leading up to the championship and also a large number of questions on the day of the championship. The total number of man-hours spent answering questions that have already been answered in our materials is astounding.

Any questions should be raised at the mandatory Athlete Briefing held about a month prior to the championship, or the briefing on the morning of the championship itself. Outside of these forums, athletes should read the available materials.

On the day of the championship there will be a designated official to answer any athlete questions. All other officials will direct you back to the designated official, who will be a member of the backstage crew.
